Under "Notes" on

Under "Notes" on the accompanying Definitions and Accounts (for both revenue and expense items) are references to special reporting requirements to be considered by homes in establishing general ledger accounts and subsidiary records.

Note

- A For internal management and for Medicare reimbursement purposes, additional accounts for subsidiary records may be required for the various individual services which comprise these services.
- B For internal management and for Medicare reimbursement purposes, additional accounts or subsidiary records by funding source may be required.
- C Separate revenue and expense accounts should be established for items where revenues or expenses exceed $10 per bed per year.
- D Separate accounts and/or subsidiary records should be established to account for expenses relating to owners and related organizations as required to complete Schedule F.
- E Separate accounts and/or subsidiary records must be maintained for the expenses of any special fringe benefits applicable to owner-employees in order to complete Schedule F and in order to permit an equitable distribution of special fringe benefit expenses on Schedule A.

F

Where there is commingling of costs or revenues there should be ongoing records and accounts that separate these costs or revenues. In the absence of specific records commingled cost or revenue should be separated on allocation basis that will produce reasonably accurate costs or revenues for the functions defined.

In summary, while the Medicaid program prescribes the underlying accounting practices to be followed, it has provided the homes with a great deal of flexibility as to how their Chart of Accounts may be integrated with the recommended Chart of Accounts.

DEFINITIONS AND ACCOUNTS

These accounts are presented in accordance with the reporting requirements described for Schedules in the Reporting Section of these instructions. The use of the recommended accounts will facilitate the completion of the Schedules in the form required by the Medicaid program.

EXPENSES - DEFINITIONS AND ACCOUNTS

Expenses are classified into two categories for reporting to the Medicaid program. These categories are defined as follows:

Routine Expenses/Services

All services provided by the facility that do not require physician orders except where physician orders require utilization of nursing staff, i.e., administering of medications and treatments prescribed by physicians. Services promulgated by the State which are not part of the all inclusive rate, even though routine, should not be included in costs; i.e., personal comfort items, etc. For more detail on routine services, see: FEDERAL REGISTER, VOL. 41, NO. 128, PART V, MEDICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM, SECTION 250.30(B) (III) (1) THROUGH (6) as follows:

- (B) Costs of routine services: Allowable costs shall include all items of expense which a provider incurs in the provision of routine services. Routine services means the regular room, dietary and nursing services, minor medical and surgical supplies, and the use of equipment and facilities. Examples of expenses that allowable costs for routine services must include are:
 - (1) All services including but not limited to administration of oxygen and related medications, handfeeding, incontinency care, tray service, and enemas;

- (2) Items furnished routinely and relatively uniformly to all patients, such as patient gowns, water pitchers, basins and bed pans;
- (3) Items stocked at nursing stations or on the floor in gross supply and distributed or used individually in small quantities; such as alcohol, applicators, cotton balls, bandaids, antacids, aspirin (and other nonlegend drugs ordinarily kept on hand), suppositories, and tongue depressors;
- (4) Items which are used by individual patients but which are usable and expected to be available, such as ice bags, bed rails, canes, crutches, walkers, wheelchairs, traction equipment, and other durable medical equipment (DME). If the patient requires specialized durable medical equipment that is not normally furnished by the long term care facility, the patient may utilize the services of a DME provider in accordance with Medicaid policies and procedures.
- (5) Special dietary supplements used for tube feeding or oral feeding such as elemental high nitrogen diet, even if written as a prescription item by a physician (because these supplements have been classified by the Food and Drug Administration as a food rather than a drug);
- (6) Laundry services other than for personal clothing.

"Non-Routine Expenses"

Includes all expenses related to services rendered that are not included in the State's per diem reimbursement rates under Medicaid, such as laboratory tests, radiology, etc. Also included are miscellaneous expense items which do not relate directly to patient care.

The Medicaid program expects that costs reported in each category will reflect the services performed. It may be necessary to allocate costs appearing on certain general ledger accounts to several reporting categories. For example, if the organization of a home results in a single department for both the nursing and housekeeping functions and the personnel have been grouped under a single account called Nursing Services salaries, for reporting to the Medicaid program the housekeeping portion of the account should be reported under Housekeeping.
